

Attractors

Attractors

Siamak Hariri of Hariri Pontarini Architects, one of Canada's top architects, and lead in the design of both University of Waterloo School of Pharmacy and McMaster DeGroot School of Medicine next door (visit both on Sept. 16), will talk about the philosophy and the collaboration that produce work like University of Waterloo Pharmacy, an icon in the evolving Kitchener-Waterloo landscape. He will discuss the ability of design to shift the perception of what an institution is and wants to be. By channeling the finest aspects – the very soul – of each institution into architectural form, the power of design can transform, attract, and uplift.

Presented in partnership with University of Waterloo School of Architecture, celebrating 50 years in 2017.

A FREE TALK

2 p.m.

Saturday, Sept. 16, 2017

No registration required

University of Waterloo

School of Pharmacy

10-A Victoria St. S., Kitchener

Free Doors Open parking:

UW Lot 3 (enter from Joseph St.)