

Water bingo

How many boxes can you cross off?

I take a 5-minute shower.	I read or listened to a story about water.	I can name the sources of my drinking water.	I help sort waste into the right bins (blue box, green bin, garbage).	I pack myself a litterless lunch.
I can name five animals that live by or in a nearby creek.	Instead of running the tap, I put a jug of water in the fridge to keep it cold.	I help keep the storm drain by my home clear of leaves and snow.	I drew a picture of why water is important to me or how I help protect it.	I saw a water tower and learned what it does.
I fold my clean clothes to wear another day.	I can name the five Great Lakes.		I turn off the tap while brushing my teeth.	I only flush the 3Ps (Pee, Poop and toilet Paper) down the toilet.
I pick up litter in my neighbourhood.	I collect rain to water my plants.	I can name the three states of water.	I walked by a stormwater management pond and learned what it does.	I fully load the dishwasher before running it.
I drink tap water and take my reusable water bottle to school.	I can name the parts of the water cycle.	Using a map, I found the stream nearest to my home.	I know the name of the watershed where I live.	I help shovel the snow to reduce the need to spread salt.
